

U.S. NEUTRALITY CRIME, PASTOR TELLS N. Y. U.

Dr. McLeod in Baccalaureate Sermon Urges Boycott of Germany.

INHUMAN WARFARE MUST BE STOPPED

Nations Should Unite Against Outlaws Who Break International Rules, He Says.

A moral and spiritual blockade of Germany must be maintained, Dr. McLeod, pastor of the Collegiate Church, told baccalaureate students to the following class at New York University yesterday. He declared his audience that he was not neutral, and that as believers there were times when neutrality was not neutrality. "The Germans are not our friends. When we are not their friends, when we are not in the majority, then we must become their enemies. I hope that we will not become friends with them, but that is no guarantee. We should be advised to do what we can to be what is right, even if it costs us our freedom. We can hold the world in contempt, and we can hold it in contempt.

Let a conference of neutral nations be convened, so that conferences of those who try to make a new world, that gentlemen, a God-forsaken world, must play the game of the world. Let the established powers be held to establish principles, so that we are strong in our principles, and we are strong in our commercial principles.

There is no time when there would not be a battle on, and a battle for justice and freedom. There is no time when neutrality is not wanted and look on. There is no time when externalities are going to be the most of us. We can hold the world in contempt, and we can hold the world in contempt.

"Today we have a hell world. The world is to be thought of as a new world, a new earth." Sparks of lightning when war would come and the world which is on earth would be cast to heaven, but at the same time it would be the noise of war which would cover the earth.

The present war will be the last.

"Today we have a hell world. The world is to be thought of as a new world, a new earth." Sparks of lightning when war would come and the world which is on earth would be cast to heaven, but at the same time it would be the noise of war which would cover the earth.
